LOT 128 - 1916 S Mercury Dime

Description

This auction is for a 1916 Mercury Dime, a classic piece of early 20th-century American age. The obverse features the Winged Liberty Head design, often confused with the Roman god Mercury, hence its popular name. The reverse showcases a fasces and olive branch, symbolizing unity and peace. This is a great addition for collectors, highlighting the artistry and historical significance of U.S. minting from this era. The item is in circulated condition, displaying typical wear but retaining key design details and markings.
