LOT 3 - 1899 Morgan Dollar XF Key Date

Description

The 1899 Morgan Dollar is a key date within the series, with a mintage of just 2,840,000 coins, making it relatively scarce compared to other dates. This particular example is graded XF, showcasing minimal wear that highlights the coin's original luster and detail, particularly in the hair and eagle's feathers. The design, created by George T. Morgan, reflects the optimism of the turn of the century, a period marked by economic expansion and the rise of American industry. Collectors will appreciate the significance of this date, as it is often sought after for both type sets and date runs, with fewer examples in higher grades available in the market. This coin's eye appeal and preservation make it an excellent addition for serious collectors looking to enhance their Morgan Dollar collections.
